Westmoor in Hot Water

Leak Pops Up Again

By LOU ANNE HEATH

Westmoor High school is in hot water again, literally.

A thoroughly disgusted board of trustees Monday evening listened with dismay as Jefferson High school district Supt. Edward D. Morgan reported on the latest developments in the case of the leaking hot water pipes at Westmoor High school.

According to Morgan, a current leak was confirmed late last month by Frank Fields of Buonaccorsi and Murray, and is in the area of the Little theater, music and fine arts classrooms and the gymnasiums.

In his report Fields noted, When Industrial Heat Control company completed the work on the cafeteria and kitchen area in July, the water loss was reduced to between 12 and 24 gallons per day. Water readings taken between September 19 and 20 indicate the water loss is presently approximately 2,900 gallons per day."

In light of these developments," Morgan told the board, the office of the district attorney has informed me that the district is almost obliged to begin some sort of legal action."

Early last spring the first difficulties with the hot water pipes developed. Before the board was able to write finis to that chapter the hot water loss had reached a maximum of 12,900 gallons per day. Weeks of research, study, and impatient waiting passed before the board had found itself with a repair bill in excess of $29,000.

At that time both Paul Bradley of Bradley Pluming and Heating company and C. L. Hoshaw of the Phillip Carey Manufacturing company disclaimed any blame for the monumental snafu in the pipe line.

In his repo rtMonday evening Morgan drew the attention of the board to a new overhead system that was installed by Cooper Brothers during the summer.

He explained that at the time of that installation provisions for extending the overhead system to other locations were made and it is now possible, if necessary, to extend the overhead system to the new distress area.

Such a rerouting is possible at considerably less expense than the initial repair cost, Morgan indicated.

More exact details and recommendations will be given the board at the next regular meeting Morgan said.

Daly City Takes Christen Ranch Annexation Steps

Coast Picks Rockaway End For Freeway

Route 'I' of the proposed state highway 229 was approved officially by the Pacifica city council last week. Months of hearings and speculation about where the county east-west highway might run haven't ended yet, but the city of Pacifica went on record favoring the one with the western terminus between Rockaway and Vallemar.

Eastward, the new highway would go up over Sweeney ridge and down into San Bruno, where the fight over the freeway routing has been much hotter.

In aonther road matter last Wednesday, the council approved a time extension of slide repairs on the old Coast highway at the north end of town north of Edgemar near Daly City.

Because federal funds were being used the completion deadline on repairs was today but unexpected drainage difficulties have caused delays, the contractor says. The council moved the deadline back to the end of this month.

The council will give the controversial Greyhound bus stop situation in and around Linda Mar some more study, then send its recommendations on to the state public utilities commission.

Councilmen heard from City Manager Karl Baldwin that another stop at San Pedro avenue

New Type for Post-Times

As our readers may have already discovered to their pleasure, today's Post-Times is much easier to read than ever before in history.

This is because the "print" in the paper is larger, both vertically and horizontally than ever before.

More than this, it has been specially designed and cut so that the individual letters and figures are larger in visual proportion than the actual increase in size.

Additionally, the redesigning has been scientifically and artistically executed in order to facilitate ease and speed in reading.

Technically, the change employs the same type-face, known as Linotype Corona, increased by one full typographer's point in size.

AL HAVEN
Humorous Speaker

Haven Wins Humor Stint

Al Haven, principal of Linda Mar school in Pacifica, won the Area Five Toastmaster Humorous Speech contest Saturday at the International Inn in South San Francisco.

Haven, a member of the Pacifica AM Toastmaster's club, spoke on "Anatomy of a Civil Rights Demonstration." The speech was a satire on the recent demonstrations throughout the country.

Taking second was Harvey Young of the Skyline club in Burlingame. His subject was "Wimmin."

Acting as master of ceremonies was Rudy Wolmuth. Chief Judge was William Chapman.

No Opposition Is Registered

By RON BATES

Daly City took a giant step toward the south Monday night as the city council moved to annex the potentially tax-rich 916-acre Christen Ranch.

Not one person opposed the move, either in writing or by appearance.

Maps and drawings paced on the walls of the council chambers in anticipation of questions by possible objectors remained unexplained as the council, in three separate actions, closed the protest hearing, accepted a signed annexation agreement from the developers, and introduced the annexation ordinance.

Before passing the three annexation resolutions, the council heard an explanation of procedures, which will be followed in the annexation, and a brief resume of the annexation agreement between the city and the Christen Ranch developers by City Attorney Paul Hupf.

Hupf said the developer will bear the cost of all water transmission lines, eight-inches or less in the new development.

"We are planning for water needs in excess of the area to be developed," Hupf said.

The city will receive three water reservoir sites, one of them with a capacity of 10 to 16 million gallons, from the developer. The extra water storage will be used for the entire city in case of emergency.

The city will bear the cost of construction of the reservoirs, but at a low interest rate over a number of years.

Hupf said the city will also receive two acres for every school site located in the Christen Ranch and a six acre

City Hall Site Ires Resident

A Daly City resident appeared at the city council meeting Monday night to protest location of a new civic center site at 87th street and Sullivan avenue.

The resident, Raymond Simonovich, has a building under construction which is 60 per cent completed, in one of two areas being considered by the council for a new civic center.

The other location is at 90th street and Sullivan avenue.

Simonovich said there are 11 homes, including one apartment house, on the 87th street site and nearly none at all at 90th street.

New First Grade Policy Proposed

Trustees of the Bayshore School district last week discussed a proposed policy that would admit talented children of kindergarten age to enter the first grade.

The policy is permitted by new legislation approved in Sacramento this year.

Under the policy, a child would be permitted to jump from the kindergarten level directly to first grade if he met five conditions:

He had attended a public school kindergarten long enough to enable a teacher to make an evaluation of his ability.

After testing, he was found to be in the upper five per cent of his class.

His physical and social development was consistent with a move to a higher grade.

His parents or guardian had

Heavy Rains Slide Death

The fatal accidents occurred about an hour apart, one south of Devil's Slide on Coast Highway, the other on Bayshore Freeway near International Airport turnoff.

It's Newspaper Week: School Editors on Tour

The visit was held in conjunction with the Post-Times observance of National Newspaper Week, October 13-19.

Students were shown a film entitled "The Race Against Time," depicting the entire operations of the Post-Times in putting out its daily as well

Erosion Peril to Coast Homes Told

Their back yards eroding away into the sea at an average rate of 6 feet per year, 11 anxious Pacifica homeowners held an emergency meeting with federal and local authorities Saturday morning to find some way of saving their homes.

A spokesman for the group, Max Link, said that just before the conference a 60-foot cliff behind one of the homes has fallen away to a point within 6 feet of a retaining wall, and has devoured 20 feet of the south end of another yard.

The lots in question measure 50 by 100 feet.

Over the past 12 years, Link said, the ocean has chewed away about 70 feet of the cliff face. Once constituting about 2 acres, the area behind the homes has now been reduced to about one-fifth of an acre. The vanished real estate includes some 40 feet of county land, he said.

"But we're all level-headed Pacificans," Link said resolutely, "and nobody's getting hysterical yet."

Link maintained that the owners of the 11 homes—on Esplanade street—have warned city, state, and federal authorities of their plight for the past two years. He said that something was to have been done by the federal government last year, but that nothing ever happened.

This year, the worried Esplanade residents are afraid that the same story will be repeated.

Their fears were somewhat abated Saturday by a statement from George McQueen, San Mateo secretary to Congressman J. Arthur Younger. McQueen said he had spoken with Congressman Younger by telephone and "We're very confident that a $54,000 Corps of Army Engineers appropriation for a study of the matter will be passed within 30-60 days by Congress as part of the Public Works Bill."

Meanwhile, however, those who have been watching the slippage from their rear windows were discussing remedial action, including formation of a special assessment district. They are seeking advice from a pair of private consulting engineer firms: Bowman and Williams, Watsonville, and Paul E. Stephenson, Capitola.

"There are just 11 people on this street," Link said, "but this erosion is a problem that faces Pacifica as a whole, and stretches from Muscle Rock about 3 miles north of us to Montara about 10 miles south."

The homeowners are: Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Max Link, Mr. and Mrs. James Emmett, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holmberg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Sullivan, Mrs. Margaret Ho Huey, Warren Richardson, Robert Mooney and his sister, Roseann Mooney, and L. Patterson.

Among those attending the morning meeting were Orville Magoon, a representative of the San Francisco District Office of the Corps of Army Engineers, George McQueen, the consulting engineers, and Pacifica Mayor Harold Feyge.

CSM Student Grid Winner

A 20-year-old College of San Mateo student is this week's winner in the Post-Times Football Contest.

George W. Smith, 1632 York avenue, San Mateo, correctly picked 12 of 15 games in the weekly football contest and estimated the 49ers would gain 171 yards.

The winner will receive two tickets to the Stanford-California Big Game.

The prize money climbs to $100 for this week's contest, plus $50 bonus for being a home-delivered subscriber to The Times. Entry forms appear on Page 6 of today's Post-Times.

Among runners-up who had picked 11 games correct out of 15 were: Dick Maley of Pacifica and Santo DiMare, Daly City.

site to be used by the city as it sees fit.

Recreation Commissioner Edmund Cavagnero said that he felt the city should receive more land for recreation use, possibly 15 acres instead of just six.

"I don't expect them to donate the land," he said, "but we should get an option on more."

Both Mayor Joseph Verducci and E. V. Schulhauser, representative of the developer, said the city would be welcome to purchase more land in the area if it deems necessary.

"We don't want to deny land to anyone," Schulhauser said. "We've had groups such as churches come to us already seeking to buy land."

The two acres per school site do not have to be located at the schools, Hupf said. With six schools in the area, the city will receive 12 acres, in addition to its six acres, for a total of 18, he said.

Hupf said the city would also receive two fire stations, one close to the huge regional shopping center in the northern end of the development, and one in the southern end. The developer has also agreed to furnish temporary buildings until permanent structures could be built by the city.

The developer will also expend $25,000 for fire equipment initially to protect the area. The city will pay it back at a low interest rate.

The Christen Ranch will be zoned according to the land use map which has been presented, Hupf said.

The public is protected, he said, because before any change could be effected, notice would have to be published in the newspapers, posters put up, and public hearings be held by both the planning commission and the city council.

The council is expected to pass the ordinance at its October 28 meeting and annexation will be completed in the latter part of November.

The developers have begun grading operations and construction of homes in the southern part of the Ranch are expected to begin in September, 1964.

County Goes Ahead With White Street

County supervisors voted last week to proceed with construction of the controversial White street connection between Westlake and Broadmoor despite continued oppostion from Jefferson Elementary school district officials.

The board instructed County Engineer Don S. Wilson to go ahead with the project.

"We have dragged our feet long enough," said Supervisor T. Louis Chess.

Wilson said the first thing to be done is to evict one family whose house is in the path of the projected route, and the roadmoor Homeowners association, whose office building is also in the way. He predicted that a work contract can be awarded by early spring.

The so-called White street extension, which would connect the Westlake shopping center with the big Broadmoor residential area, has been on the planning boards for years and money for the work is in the county budget.

There has been considerable opposition from some residents of the area, but particularly from school authorities.

The extension will go between the Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin schools and will take some of the property now used for playground.

The school district filed suit, claiming the property had a higher use as a school playground than as a street right of way. The county was upheld, however.

Appeal Filed

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson reported to the board Tuesday that a notice of appeal has been filed by the district. He advised the board, however, that it would be all right to go ahead with the project because the district did not obtain a stay pending hearing of the appeal.

Sorenson said he doubted that the district could find any grounds upon which to obtain an injunction. And he predicted that the appeal will lose.

Race and Residence Forum Will Resume

The second public forum on race and residence, sponsored by the North Coast Community council, is set for Monday at 8 p.m. at the Vallemar school on Reina del Mar. The role of the individual in aiding good relations among all races will be the topic for discussion.

The four panelists for Monday evening's meet have worked as individuals and through organizations to activate good will in their communities where minorities have entered, according to NCCC officials.

The speakers, and their brief biographical backgrounds as provided by the NCCC, are:

Mrs. Genevieve Jefferson—this year's San Francisco Foundation's award winner for her work in halting panic selling in Merced Heights in San Francisco.

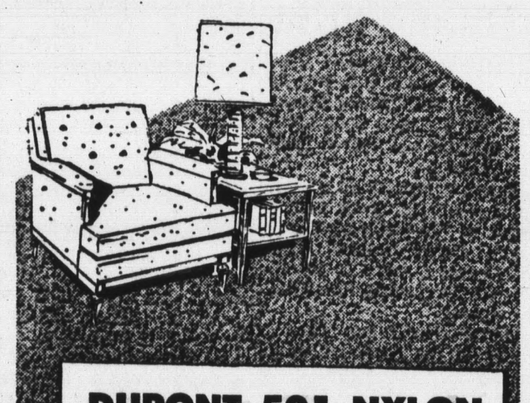

Rev. Hansel Stembridge—Westlake Baptist church minister, he led the Lynchberg, Va., ministerial association in its stand for an end to segregation and finally resigned from his church there because his congregation voted to continue segregation.

Dr. Raymond Rucker — active civic and church leader from San Mateo, a graduate of Creighton university, World War II and Korean war veteran, he has practiced dentistry in San Mateo for 10 years, where he contributes leadership to the San Mateo Community council, United Crusade board, Mental Health association, Catholic Family Service and the Urban league.

Margaret Dailey—an individual who represents Pacifica's positive efforts toward good community spirit in her work with the Westview Improvement association and in her personal service in her neighborhood.

Discussion from the floor will follow in the same fashion as the September panel, which drew a large turnout.

Mosk Throws Out Appeal

The contention of the Bayshore Sanitary District seeking to nullify the city of Brisbane's annexation of 9500 acres earlier this year is without merit, ruled Attorney General Stanley Mosk last week.

Leave to sue in quo warranto was denied and an earlier provisional leave is withdrawn.

The district contended that the annexation was invalid because it (the district) filed a majority protest within the meaning of section 35313 of the Government Code.

State-owned tide and submerged lands, valued at $14,584,000, were involved in the annexation. The evaluation was made by the State Lands commission and accepted by the Brisbane City council. The value of the Sanitary district property was set at $633,250.

"If privately owned property and publicly owned property are proposed to be annexed in the same proceeding, further proceedings shall not be taken if protest is made by . . . public owners of one-half of the publicly owned territory proposed to be annexed," states section 35313. annexed," states section 35313.

"The state did not protest the annexation; the sanitary district did," points out the opinion. "On the face of the matter, the sanitary district did not present a majority protest. In fact, the value of its property was less than 1 per cent of the value of all the publicly owned property in the territory."

The district, however, contended the property was not determined by the county assessor, pursuant to section 5313.

Legislative history reveals no legislative purpose to have duplicative or conflicting evaluations of state-owned tide and submerged lands made by a county assessor, states the ruling.

The opinion was requested by the Bayshore Sanitary District, and was prepared by Deputy Attorney General Michael Traynor of San Francisco.

Twenty years ago there were approximately 4 million dairy farmers in the U.S. Today, there are about 1 million. However, even with 22 million dairy cows some 12 years ago as compared to the 17 million today, average milk production per cow is up more than 70 per cent, and production per man is increasing over 7 per cent per year.

Natalie Lipman, school superintendent, said the board decided to continue discussion of the proposed policy at its November meeting.

In other action, the board adopted a policy requiring all teachers to take specified courses before beginning a new state-mandated method of teaching arithmetic.

The new math instruction procedures will be mandatory in 1965.

The board also:

Called for bids on the paving of about 1000 square feet of play yard area at Midway Village school.

Granted permission for school nurse Mrs. Patricia Miner to attend a conference on planning for handicapped children in San Francisco Saturday.

Named three of its members delegates to the California Small School Districts convention in Bakersfield October 25-27.

is wanted, in addition to the present stop at Linda Mar boulevard.

Residents' complaints about the buses going right into Pedro Point caused the bus company to drop that stop some time ago.

Baldwin also announced that he had been appointed to an advisory committee to the Disaster Council planning board, made up of mayors of San Mateo county.

Put over until a special meeting October 28 were two items: The inclusion of Copeland street in the Oddstad way Assessment district and personnel advisory board recommendations on clerical pobs.

The Millords, a hotrod club in Pacifica, got their long-awaited site to build a club auto repair shop. The council granted the club use of some surplus land at the site of the old sewage disposal plant at Rockaway beach. "They're good kids," Mayor Harold Feyge said. "They have all their building materials ready to go and all they need is a place to build." The agreement is being drawn up.

Mrs. Louise Mowry, 26, of 141 Park Plaza drive, Daly City, suffered a broken nose at 8 p.m. Saturday in Redwood City when a car in which she was riding struck another vehicle on El Camino Real at Lincoln avenue, police report.

Officers said the car driven by Mrs. Mowry's husband, Alan, 27, hit the back of a car driven by Faye A. Alameda, 28, of 192 Berkshire street, Redwood City, who was making a left turn off the highway onto Lincoln.

Fishbowl Breaks, Woman Injured

A Daly City housewife had her legs badly cut Sunday evening when a fishbowl she was standing on shattered.

Mrs. George Cranes, 47, 536 C street, Daly City, was trying to reach something up high on a shelf in the garage. She found the fishbowl and stood on it.

Her husband applied tourniquets to both legs to stop the bleeding and took her to Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for emergency treatment. She was transferred to Peninsula hospital where she was treated and released.

DALY CITY Mayor Joseph Verducci was unanimously re-elected president of the San Mateo county Council of Mayors at the council's regular monthly meeting at the Villa Chartier. He will serve another six months. City manager Edward Frank is currently president of the County Council of City Managers and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy is head of the county Fire Chiefs' association.

Title Officer Is Arrested

The former manager for the Bay Counties Title company in Redwood City has embezzled between $15,000 and $25,000 during the past two years, Redwood City police said last week.

Arrested on a charge of forgery was Raymond Joseph Flanagan, 42, of 848 Wildwood avenue, Colma.

He was released immediately on $1100 bail, to appear in Southern District Municipal court October 22 at 10 a.m. for arraignment.

According to Police Capt. Cole V. Stafford, Flanagan was hired as manager of the title company in 1961 and had control over money held in escrow by the firm.

In June of this year, the company was taken over by the First American Title company, when discrepancies began to appear during auditing of the accounts in escrow, Stafford said.

The captain reported that Flanagan had issued checks to persons who held escrows with the company, forging their endorsements, or had used other names to obtain checks which he cashed himself, keeping the money.

Stafford said that Flanagan started out small in $35 amounts, but that as the embezzlements progressed, the checks got bigger. The largest discovered so far is in the amount of $1000. Although the audit has not been completed, the total amount taken probably will be between $15,000 and $25,000, according to Stafford.

Police said that considerable amount of the money had been paid by Flanagan to a San Carlos building contractor, but that Flanagan has not been able to give a satisfactory explanation as to why.

ONE OF the drawbacks — and dangers — of writing a weekly column is that often what is news this week is old news the next.

Another pitfall is that what may be considered a bright new idea one week has already been seized upon by someone else by the time another week has passed and your thoughts have been printed.

Which is all by way of an alibi for our writing, a couple of weeks ago, of how much easier athletes had it nowadays because of jet travel and how they have no gripes coming, in baseball, for instance, of having to play so much more of a night schedule than they did in the "old days."

Before that column was printed, The Sporting News was out with a large story quoting Ralph Houk on how much easier athletes had it nowadays because of jet travel.

But honest, fellas, we had it written before we had any idea of what the Sporting News was doing and there's no plasiarism involved.

If you're interested in what Houk had to say, incidentally, here it is, in part:

"The player today is not exposed to nearly as much discomfort and annoyance as the player of, let's say, ten to 15 years ago . . .

" . . . Compared to those days, we have it real nice and comfortable.

"The way we travel now, the ball players get to sleep more in hotel rooms that are air-conditioned and comfortable.

"They are not rocking over the rails all night, then getting up for breakfast and leaving right away for the ball park to play a game.

"Compared to those days, the ballplayers nowadays have it pretty easy."

SPEAKING OF writing blind, as we write this, the World Series is still not decided, though it will be by the time this is printed.

We think it would be safe to say at this point, however, that the old saw of good pitching being able to beat good hitting still holds true.

And we think the Giants should be given credit for giving the Dodger pitching staff probably the roughest time anyone gave it all year. McCovey hit Drysdale like Don had shares in Willie, and Cepeda hit Perranoski like Ted Williams used to hit everybody. And the other Giants hit the rest of the Dodger staff fairly well, too.

IF WALTER ALSTON isn't by now considered a genius for (winning with three or four pitchers around a mediocre team; and a saint (for holding his tongue and remaining a gentleman in the face of unfair blasts of "choke,") then there is no justice and the spitball should be brought back.

After all, they've legalized Sandy Koufax.

BEST CRACK of the Series was when Whitey Ford said he had finally discovered Sandy's weakness.

"He can't hit," said Whitey.

WHILE ON the subject of genius, isn't it strange how Red Hickey went from a genius — when he innovated the "Shotgun" — to a bum?

We wonder how guys can get so stupid in just a few years.

IF BUD POILE, coach and general manager of the ice hockey Seals, thinks he's having a tough time signing players after a championship season, he ought to console himself by thinking of Roy Hamey's signing problems with the Yankees — who win every year.

COLLEGE NOTES: Probably the best known pitch-catch combo in collegiate football is Pete Beathard to Hal Bedsole. But for the exceptional foresight of USC Coach Johnny McKay, however, neither of these boys might have made their reputations.

As freshmen, Bedsole was a quarterback, Beathard an end.

San Francisco State college believes in having its coaches being able to practice what they preach.

All six of head man Vic Rowen's assistants were outstanding Gator gridders. Stan Crouch, Neil Laughlin and Bob Baird, graduate student assistants, were Far Western conference all-leaguers.

Jayvee coach Al Abraham was a Little All America lineman, defensive backfield coach Jim Sochor was a Little All America fullback.

It may seem incongruous, having Sochor, holder of many Gator passing and other offensive records, operating as a defensive coach. It's actually very reasonable.

Sochor could not only pass and run with the best of them in his days of leading State to four straight championships (1956-59), but was also one of the standout defensive backs on the West Coast.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES: This newspaper seems to be good luck for Oceana High's gridders.

On the same day Ron Bates' story predicting a possible Shark win or two this year appeared along with a note in our column concerning the tough luck of Oceana coach Jess Jones in not having had a winned in two years, the story of the Sharks first win also appeared.

As we said earlier, this is what happens on a weekly.

Still, we believe that Ron and this writer should share some of the glory with Jones and his boys for pullin' that one out of the fire.

Jones, of course, went out of his way to appear not the least bit surprised and as intrepid as possible.

Learning quickly to assume the air of victor, he stated confidently after the game that the Sharks "should have scored more." (They tallied 14).

Boy, there'll be no satisfying him now.

Steve McCoughy, star quarterback of the Sharks, incidentally, is not Steve "Mac-Coffee," as some, quite logically, are prone to call him, but Steve McCoy — just like it doesn't sound.

Warriors Turn Back Vikings 13-7 for Fourth Straight Win

Ray DeJong's South San Francisco High school Warriors, will be playing the rest of them for keeps, beginning Friday night when the scrappy 1963 edition plays host to Joe McGrath's Jefferson High school Indians.

The Warriors will be out to prove their worth in the North Peninsula league banner chase, when they launch the loop campaign with the 8 p.m. kickoff at Clifford field.

South San Francisco tangles with the Daly City Tribe with three thoughts in mind: (1) get a good start in the NPL championship race; (2) revenge last year's 26-20 loss against the Indians, and (3) keep a four-game victory string intact.

The Warriors have inched by three foes to date, including last night's 13-7 victory over the Mills Vikings, and would like to stage a substantial show of strength Friday night.

Local grid followers tabbed the South San Franciscans to capture last Firday's outing by 12 points. Mills' head tutor Jim Cox had different ideas.

Mills kept the B Street dwellers in check during the first quarter, but the South San Francisco gridders bounced back in the second stanza when sophomore back Greg Jones scooped up a loose Viking ball and sprinted 65 yards to paydirt. Sam Pretari's kick cleared the uprights and the Warriors were out to a 7-0 lead with 11:59 remaining in the first half.

The Vikings offensive machine came to life in the closing minutes of the half when John Buck set the stage for his mates' sole touchdown march. Buck grabbed a Warrior fumble and put the Vikings within striking distance a the Blue and Whites' 36 yard marker.

Six plays later, quarterback Bill Sexton punched it over from the two, and the Vikings were back in the contest. Bob Nichol's PAT kick was good. Nineteen seconds remained in the half.

The deadlock appeared to be shortlived when Warrior linebacker Sam Pretari stole a Sexton pass and romped 90 yards to the expected touchdown. A clipping penalty, however, nullified the run and the Warriors took over on the Vikings' 30 yard line where the Viking defense stiffened.

The backbreaker for the Vikings came with 5:58 left in the game when Warrior end Ron Davis stayed with a John Moro aerial, deflected by two Viking defenders, and snagged the pass for 20 yards and the TD. Pretari's extra-point kick was short and wide of the crossbars.

Dons Beat Oceana by Touchdown

Aaragon High school's Dons will "have to do a lot of work" if they're going to give Mid-Peninsula league defending football champion Burlingame High school a battle Saturday night.

That was the word from Aragon Coach Wayne Taylor last week after the Dons beat Oceana High school, 6-0, for their first victory in three games at Oceana Saturday.

It's a good thing for Oceana that they didn't, because the Dons rolled up more than 200 yards with Bobby Allen picking up 128 for a 5.5 average per carry.

It was Allen who scored the only touchdown of the game—a seven-yard run on a quick opener up the middle in the third period.

A couple of other Aragon would-be drives were halted by fumbles, one of them on their own 30-yard line. It was the closest the Sharks got to the Aragon end zone all afternoon.

HARRIS TALLIES ALL

Colts Trample Hillsdale, 19-7

El Camino High school's football Colts, working off their advance scouting reports, added three brand new plays to their offensive arsenal during the week, and if last Friday's happenings are any indication, the trio may be used quite a bit before the season is over.

Capitalizing on the efficiency of their pitch-outs, quarterback keepers and pass-lateral plays the Steeds bounced Hillsdale High, 19?. Firday under the lights at Burlingame.

Walt Harris, the Colts sterling senior half-back, ran wild off the pitchout series in scoring all 19 El Camino points and averaging 7.7 yards per carry in gaining 124 yards in 16 carries.

El Camino, scoring a touchdown in every period except the fourth, got their first one with 9:03 remaining in the first stanza when Harris took the inevitable pitch out from Tyler, followed his blocking around the right side and scored from 15 yards out. The run capped a 78 yard march in just seven plays.

Early in the second the Colts moved to a 13-0 advantage on a razzle-dazzle play that caught the Knights napping.

Tyler, passing from his 31, hit Ron Renig with a pass on the right side at the 17, Renig, with Knights closing in on all sides, lateraled to Harris and the Colt star sprinted unmolested for the TD.

With 4:21 remaining in the third quarter El Camino got its clincher as Harris again lugged the ball over, this time from the two. The score was set up by a 13 yard keeper play by Tyler and runs of eight and 13 yards by John Lasota.

El Camino, who used every man on their squad, didn't punt once during the evening, but this was partially due to the fact that an alert Knight defense stole the ball four times on fumbles.

The last thing you'll need is power steering.

Power steering is for cars that are hard to steer. Heavy cars, with big front engines to push around.

With a rear-engined VW, you won't need power steering.

Or power brakes.

Or optional, higher-powered engines.

Which is just as well.

They're not available.

On the other hand, we have some extras you can't avoid:

Four-speed stick shift. Bucket seats. A heater/defroster. A windshield washer.

Because you can't avoid them, we don't charge any extra.

If you insist on paying more, we have a few things to offer:

A sunroof. Leatherette upholstery. A radio. Whitewall tires. A side-view mirror.

If that's still not enough, maybe you should look at something fancier.

More power to you.

Hix Carries the Ball

WESTMOOR Quarterback Bruce Hix (15) escapes the grasp of one Serra High defender and lowers his head, ala Ram style, as Padre defender Dan Sullivan (33) moves in to make the tackle Saturday afternoon at Serra. Westmoor blanked the Padres, 20-0. (Post-Times Photo)

Serra Whitewashed By Westmoor, 20-0

By GARRY NIVER

Even the presence of a doctor and his little black bag could not relieve the Serra High school Padres of their fatal malady Friday afternoon amid their cheering fans on the Padre grid field.

The Serra - Westmoor football game was held up for 15 minutes until the arrival of a physician, but unfortunately for the Pads, the doctor and all of the modern medicine of man could not cure a bad case of fumbilitis nor solve the impenetrable defense of the visiting Rams.

Coach Pete Matisi's Rams from Daly City threw up a stern defense and parlayed it with a well-balanced offense to defeat Serra, 26-0.

A big Ram interior line of Bob Hanson, John Glebow, John Powell, and Dan Hartman limited the hosts to just 36 yards rushing and one first down. The air lanes were equally as cluttered as the Padres were only able to pick up 19 yards through passing.

And while the Catholic Athletic league team was desperately trying to solve the Westmoor defense, the Rams were sending a hulking fullback by the name of Dave Mahoney through the center of the Serra line.

Mahoney accounted for 147 yards of the Rams total of 156, including two touchdowns.

And the "wonderful Mr. H.", Bruce Hix, was hitting the air for 66 more yards and one touchdown to add to the confusion in the Pad camp.

..."It was a good game, but we still haven't played up to our capacity," said Matisi, whose team now sports a 3-1 record. "We didn't play consistent ball," he added.

The Rams first scoring opportunity came late in the first quarter when Powell fell on a Serra fumble on the latter's 20 yard line. It took the Rams just three plays to move the ball in for the score, with Hix hitting end Marc Mallinger with a nine yard bullet for the TD.

The Rams threatened once again just before the half when Hix threw a 25 yard pass to Ron Baker on the five yard line just as the gun sounded.

The visitors wasted no time in the third period as they set up camp on the Padre 20 yard line after a fake kick by Serra had failed.

Mahoney reeled off 16 yards on two carries, Baker one yard, and then Mahoney dove over a pile-up in the center of the line to put the Rams in front, 13-0, with 6:11 remaining. Mahoney made it a seven-point play by running the PAT in.

The Daly City crew scored the final tally just as the third period concluded when Mahoney tore off-tackle on a 56 yard scoring jaunt. Hix ran the PAT in for the final point of the game.

Capuchino Rolls Over Terra Nova

An inexperienced Terra Nova Tiger team was the victim of an air and ground attack by the Capuchino High school Mustangs Friday afternoon and were on the short end of a disastrous 49-7 score.

Terra Nova, stymied both on the ground and in the air, thwarted Capuchino's shutout in the third period when Stan Childers scooped up a Rich Dabney fumble and raced 56 yards for the score.

Cap's sophomore kicker, Ray Graben, kicked seven straight PATs.

D. C. Community Chorus to Hold Auditions Saturday

The Daly City Community chorus will hold open auditions Saturday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the Lincoln Park clubhouse on Acton avenue at Brunswick street, according to Mrs. Patti Stolz, chorus director.

"We are interested in having anyone over 18, with some musical background, take part in this annual audition," Mrs. Stolz announced.

"At the present time we have a special need for tenors and sopranos but we are not limiting the auditions to specific vocal ranges. Anyone with any choral experience will be especially welcome," she stated.

Prospective chorus members are asked to call Mrs. Stolz at JU 9-6070 to arrange for a specific time to audition.

CALIFORNIA-STANFORD NOV. 23

For the Week's Best Entry

Send in your entry in the

FOOTBALL CONTEST

sponsored by The Post and The Times

Entries available every Wednesday in the Post.

RULES AND INSTRUCTIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.

2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S. F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)

3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:
FOOTBALL CONTEST
San Mateo Times
145 Second Avenue
San Mateo, Calif.
or to
FOOTBALL CONTEST
The Post
30 Park Plaza Drive
Daly City, Calif.

4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times.

5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on Nov. 23. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest for games to be played Nov. 16-17 if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker, the prize will be divided equally. (This includes ties between contestants who pick 15 winners.

6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. To qualify for this bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event, two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.

7. A contestant may submit as many entries as desired on the official entry blank but only one exact-sized facsimile of the official entry blank. Submission of more than one facsimile in any one week will render all facsimiles submitted by that contestant void.

8. Entries may be attached to a post card, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the office of The Times.

9. Anyone may enter the contest except employees of The Times or immediate members of their family.

10. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times. No answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Answers to the contest or winners' names will NOT be given out over the phone. Winners will be notified by The Times.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

WHEN YOU were young did your mother serve salmon croquettes frequently? Mine did and we loved them. But somehow they seem to have slipped to the back of our recipe files and don't appear on our tables very often. When was the last time you served them? Can't remember? Well then, now is the time to give this recipe a try.

SALMON CROQUETTES

1 Can salmon (one pound)
milk
½ cup butter
2 Tbsp. minced onion
1-3 cup flour
¼ teas. salt
three-fourths teaspoon Tobasco or pepper to taste
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 cup, (approximately) packaged corn flake crumbs

Drain liquid from salmon into measuring cup. Add milk to make a cup of liquid. Melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and cook until tender but not brown. Blend in flour, salt and the hot sauce or pepper. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Flake salmon and add to sauce with lemon juice. Stir in ½ cup corn flake crumbs. Refrigerate until chilled. Divide into eight or 10 portions and shape into cones.

Roll remaining corn flakes to coat well. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes, until golden brown.

POSSIBLY your family feels that no meal is complete without potatoes. If such is the case, it would be a simple matter to toss a package of frozen french fried potatoes into the oven alongside the croquettes. They take about the same amount to time to cook.

The salmon croquettes are delightful but you can enhance their charms even more with tarter sauce. It is really quite simple to make and somehow the homemade variety tastes better than the store variety.

TARTER SAUCE

1 Tbsp. vinegar
1 cup mayonaise
1 Tbsp. minced onion
1 Tbsp. minced parsley
1 Tbsp. chopped green olive
2 Tbsp. chopped sweet pickle

Stir the vinegar into the mayonaise. Add the remaining ingredients and season to taste. Mix it well and set aside to let the flavors blend.

IF YOU HAVE some odds and ends of bread around, you might be interested in using them up in a nice bread pudding. And you can use up the rest of that lemon (that you used in the croquettes) in a lemon sauce to go over the pudding.

BREAD PUDDING

1½ cups stale bread
3 cups milk
1-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
2 eggs
½ cup seeded raisins

Soak the bread in the milk for 15 minutes. Then stir in the seasonings and raisins. Beat the eggs well and stir into the rest of the ingredients. Pour into well greased (use butter or margarine) baking dish. Bake for about an hour in 350 degree oven.

LEMON SAUCE

1 Tbsp. cornstarch
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup water
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 egg yolk
1 Tbsp. butter

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt. Add water, heat to boiling and cook until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Add lemon juice and rind and pour slowly over beaten egg yolk. Cook another minute and add butter. Makes 1¼ cups.

Proclamation Cites 120th B'nai B'rith Anniversary

B'nai B'rith's contribution to world humanity was cited recently in a proclamation presented to San Franciso mayor George Christopher.

The proclamation was turned over to the mayor by Mrs. Abe Ight, San Francisco B'nai B'rith council president, and Leo Samson, president of the Central California Men's Council of the world-wide organization.

It commemorates the 10th anniversary of B'nai B'rith, noting that the group now has grown to a membership of more than 400,000 persons throughout the world.

Mrs. Ight reported that among current B'nai B'rith philanthropies are:

The Leo N. Levi Memorial hospital in Hot Springs, Ark., a non-sectarian hospital for arthritic and related diseases; Bellefaire, the oldest existing Jewish child care institution in the United States—recognized as a leading treatment center for emotionally disturbed children.

B'nai B'rith also services the Hillel Foundations in colleges, U.S.O. parties for servicemen and the Dolls for Democracy program shown in public and private schools.

In honor of the 120th anniversary celebration, B'nai B'rith women from this area are giving toys to the Sisters of the Holy Family college and to Youth Guidance Center.

In conjunction with the 120th year, B'nai B'rith is also conducting an intensive nation-wide membership drive to inform the public of its activities through out the world, Mrs. Ight said.

Guests attending the annual "International Relations Night" program at Abraham Lincoln elementary school on Tuesday will hear talks on educational practices in Korea, Argentina and Finland and will be served desserts made from recipes from 18 foreign nations, according to Mrs. George Hersom, international relations chairman.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the school. Three Fulbright scholars who are enrolled in the international teacher development program at San Francisco State college will be honored guests and principal speakers, Mrs. Herson announced.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. Jack Schuller. Mrs. John Taylor has served as advisor to Mrs. Hersom.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pereira and Mrs. Harold Faulkner will entertan the speakers at dinner prior to the meeting, Mrs. Hersom announced. The trio will be presented with individual personalized gifts following the program.

"In keeping with the international theme, members of our P-TA have offered to contribute desserts from various countries and we will be serving dainty repasts from the Philippines, Mexico, Canada, Australia, Turkey, Germany, Italy, New Zealand, Greece, Armenia, England, Indo-China, Nicaragua, Chile, Yugoslavia, and Ireland," Mrs. Hersom added.

Court St. Mary Inducts New Members, Cites Aims

Several new members will be inducted into Court St. Mary 1155 of Daly City, Catholic Daughters of America, in ceremonies to be held tomorrow night at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church parish hall.

In conjunction with the initiation of new members into the women's group, Court St. Mary this week issued a review of the objectives, scope and program of Catholic Daughters of America.

According ot Mrs. H. Mumford, publicity chairman of Court St. Mary, the Catholic Daughters was organized in 1903 by the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus in Utica, N. Y., with an initial membership of 60.

The aims, Mrs. Mumford related, are for the moral, spiritual, and intellectual development of Catholic womenhood; for charitable and benevolent purposes, the propagation of the faith and intensification of patriotism.

Now the largest Catholic women organization in the world with a membership of 225,000 and 1499 courts, it is established in the U.S., Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama and Cuba.

Miss Margaret Buckley, Chevy Chase, Md., is the supreme regent. Headquarters are in New York.

The Catholic Daughters have given over $33,000,000 in charitable and religious donations since 1920. A quarter million went to the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington for five apsidal alters. This year $50,000 was given to Cardinal Cushing, of Boston, Mass., for the development of the church's program in Latin America, Mrs. Mumford reported.

As National observes its 60th anniversary, the California State Court is observing its 40th, under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Wettstein, San Francisco, a member of Court St. Mary, as state regent. The Rev. Matthew P. Sullivan, Daly City, is state chaplain.

There are 137 courts in the state, with a membership of 16,000.

A "California C.D.A. Home" for retired members will be built in Salinas. The land has been purchased and paid for. It is hoped groundbreaking can take place early in 1964. Every Court in the state contributes to this project, according to Mrs. Mumford.

With the Cross and Crown as their emblem and "Unity and Charity" their motto, the scope of activities has no limitations, said Mrs. Mumford. Each court maps its own work commensurate with locality needs, abiding with the wishes of the Hierarchy and pastors, she said.

Mrs. Edward Denning, extension chairman for Court St. Mary, may be reached at PL 5-4946 for further information, Mrs. Mumford concluded.

Artist Louis Hays, chairman, reports a flurry of planning activities in preparation for what has become one of Pacifica's outstanding cultural events of the year.

Hays anticipates that with this year's additional efforts and roster of exhibitors, the November 2-3 event will surpass all previous efforts.

Many of the artists who will be represented have had one-man shows, Hays said. He added that the Art Guild "has become recognized as a most stimulating factor in Pacifica." The guild has had award-winning representation at the San Mateo Fiesta, San Francisco Art Festival and the California State Fair, Hays added.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear M. Bavaresco

I have a problem. I am 16 years old. My problem is that I can't show the boy I love so much, that I'm interested in him. He doesn't even know I'm alive. I'm not very pretty. I've never even had a date, or a boyfriend, for that matter. What can I do about my problem.?

Miss Problem.

Dear Miss Problem.

First of all, stop throwing the word love around. How can you be in love with someone, who doesn't even know you.

Love is a thing between two people, and rarely blesses a person more than once. You are not in love with him, you are strongly attracted to him.

Secondly if you are not pretty, don't blame that on anyone but yourself, because there are very few pretty people in the world. But they try to improve what they have through makeup and nice clothes.

Then again, all the makeup and beautiful clothes are of no good unless you are pretty inside. Ask yourself. Do you make others want to be with you? Is it happiness I feel or pity for myself? Do I smile even if I feel like crying?

Your problem, Miss Problem, is yourself and your attitude.

No one likes a moody person or one who is mourning all the time. Try to sparkle more.

I'm sure if you try to think of the most popular girl in the school, you'll be surprised to find she isn't necessarily pretty physically, but rather pretty personality wise. There is your problem. If you develop a nice and happy personality, the boys will flock to you.

As for that one in particular, he will more than likely be in the flock. Be a sheep herder, not a sheep.

Smiles are really important. It's great to be with someone who smiles and enjoys life. You know the old saying you can't buy friends? Well, this is wrong, you can buy friends. All it costs is a smile.

Dear M. Bavaresco

You said in one of your columns that if teen-agers get an allowance they should work for it. Now I have to do the dishes and clean my room. I don't think that is fair. My other friends get an allowance and they don't do anything for it. Why should I? I think you should tell the parents that in some cases, the kids should work but not in all cases. I think you are wrong. If teenagers get into trouble, work is good for them. But if a teenager is good, why should her parents insist that she work for her allowance. You know they freed the slaves.

Slave No. 1

Dear Slave:

You sound to me like you are a very spoiled brat. You, above anyone, needs this kind of work. You're right. They freed the slaves, so what makes you think your parents should be a slave to you.

You need to learn the value of money, and this is a good way. Your father has to work hard for his money. So what makes you think the world owes you money, without putting a little work out for it. You not only need to learn the value of money but also the value of parents.

I'm sure your parents are not working you to death, but are trying to teach you that money is the reward for effort.

You know, sometimes you don't appreciate what your parents have done for you, until you are much older, then sometimes it's too late to say thank you.

Teen-agers: If you have a problem or topic you'd like to have me discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper, or Camp Meeker, Calif.

Westmoor Whirl

By SHEILA STAVISH

ROUTINE-WEARY Rams relished a change from pacing as they waded to class last Wednesday morning. Girls in vogue with cut-out flats found their spirits a bit dampened, however. The source of the RAMbling river proved to be a broken pipe in one of the boys' restrooms.

Fervently flipping pages in their pocket book dictionaries, John Milton's fourth year French students attempted to stump him with obscure vocabulary. Giving the class a chance to test his command of the language, Milton challenged them to find words he could not translate.

Without hesitation he rattled off, en francais, "yadel," "hullabaloo," "bagpipe," "shotgun," and "broomstick." "Fire alarm," "sledge hammer," "werewolf" and "barbecue' required a few seconds of concentration.

However, to the imaginative students' glee, their instructor found "nanny goat," "pedigree," "pomegranate," "finch," and "somersault" completely baffling.

Demurely draped in black with pearls, prospective girl graduates will pose today and tomorrow for senior pictures. Transformed into dashing young gentlemen, senior boys, in black tie attire, were photographed yesterday and Monday.

WESTMOORITES will be obliged to present permanent tickets upon boarding school buses. This new policy is expected to solve the problem of over-crowding and disorderliness.

Junior Ron Wagner is the only Westmoor student who can claim of owning a 200-year-old fragment from the recently unearthed coffin of explorer DeAnza. The accidental discovery of the remains by a priest in Sonora, Mexico, made headlines last June. Rons father acted as official interpreter for an expedition from a San Francisco newspaper. Examining the relic aded zest to Evans Maionchi's California History class.

Anne Golden's struggling students found self-taught chemistry a bit confusing. Miss Golden's two week absence left only their books, each other, and a substituting teacher to ask questions of.

DC Recreation Department Sets Arts-Crafts Classes

The Department of Recreation announces that beginning next week it will offer a program of arts and crafts at several playgrounds, for youngsters eight years of age and over.

Because of the cost of the materials involved, it will be necessary to charge a fee of 15 cents per session to each participant.

Participation will be limited at each site depending upon the size of the facility and number of youngsters that can be handled by the instructor.

Projects for the first 10 weeks will consist of twisted crepe paper projects and slapstick construction. Mrs. LaVerne Schwindt will be the class instructor. Classes are scheduled as follows:

Monday 4 to 5:30 p.m., Westlake Park; Tuesday 4 to 5:30 p.m., Lincoln Park; Wednesday 4 to 5:30 p.m., Westmoor Park; Thursday, 4 to 5:30 p.m., Lincoln Park; Friday, 4 to 5:30 p.m. Westlake Park; Saturday 10 to 11:15 a.m., Bayshore school; 11:30 to 12:30 p.m., Bayshore school; Saturday 1:30 to 2:45 p.m., War Memorial; 2:45 to 3 p.m., War Memorial.

The arts and crafts projects will vary every ten weeks and will include such programs as papier mache, puppetry, copper tooling, mosaics, and lanyard braiding.

Persons interested in attending should be present at the first class session scheduled in their neighborhood.

Westmoor Press Chief Is Selected

Senior Sue Sherman has been named editor of the Westmoor press bureau. Informing the community on all facets of school news, Sue releases several articles each week for publication in newspapers.

A prospective life member of the California Scholarship Federation, Sue has maintained an "A-" average. Enrolled in the journalism class for the second year, she also writes for the Westmoor Rampage.

Her classes have included enriched English and elevated social science courses. Sue holds down a part-time job as well as the office of president of her temple youth group.

Planning to attend the University of California in Berkeley, she is taking fourth-year French and is a member of the Westmoor sergeants - at - arms force.

Sue succeeds former editor Marilynn Wagner, who was responsible for the publication of approximately 300 stories in the local press last year. Covering numerous topics, the local press carried articles concerning student government, club outings, the classroom, faculty, administration, sports, individual students, and extra-curricular activities.

Ray Sabella, last year's photographer, will continue to do double duty as both the Rampage and Press Bureau photographer.

Year Book Heads Named

Heading the new Rambler staff this term are editors Cathy Lynch and Judy Sylvestri.

After a personal interview they were chosen to lead the authors of the 136 page yearbook.

Some of hte new features of this year's Rambler will be an embossed ram's head on the cover, eight pages for autographs, cartoons by Art Editor Rosanna la Bruzzo, and hand lettering by her assistant Alice Cantwell.

Pictures will be handled by chief photographer Mike Dirickson and his assistants Jack Jaeger and Bob Anderson.

Layout editor Lou Botti and his assistant Frances Abott will have a big job because of the large size of this year's yearbook.

Class editor Lynda Brown will be assisted by Pat Cronin and Elaine Caruso. Randy Boyd with his assistant Judy Pardini will handle the feature sections.

Sermon Topic Is Announced

"Your Neighbor As Yourself," will be the theme of Laymen's Sunday, at Westlake Lutheran church Sunday.

Herb Kraling and Harold Pederson will present the sermon. The liturgy will be given by Jim La Chance.

New persons received into the congregation recently include: Mr. and Mrs. Orla Jorgenson and their daughter, Mariann; Mr. and Mrs. William Kuder; Mr. and Mrs. Orin Dahl and children Deborah Lee and Jeanette, and Judy N. Nelson.

The young people of the church will visit Our Redeemer's church in South San Francisco Saturday evening, for an area youth rally.

The Rev. Maynard Force of the Lutheran Bible Institute of Los Angeles will be the guest speaker.

New Store Hours Announced

Business And Finance

Harvest Sale Is Scheduled

Pauson's of Westlake will celebrate its second annual "Bargain Harvest" sale tomorrow night from 7:30 to 10:30.

The mens wear store decided to hold the festive event again this year because of the "overwhelming public acceptance" of the promotion in its initial year, Pauson's officials said.

Visitors to the "Bargain Harvest" will be given free Appletime apple juice, apples and doughnuts.

A variety of special merchandise will be placed on sale for the night-time event, store officials said.

New Falcon, Bonus Award In Promotion

Skyline Plaza Shopping center's "Fall festival" promotion today enters its second week with the announcement from the merchants association that a special "bonus" award will be added to the many valuable prizes already announced.

First prize in the drawing, to be held November 8, is a new Ford Falcon. Merchants said today that this prize will be augmented with the awarding of 100 gallons of gasoline to the winning ticket holder. This bonus award only applies, however, if the contestant has had his drawing ticket validated at one of the Skyline Plaza stores, the merchants explained.

Tickets for the prize drawing are available free at booths in the shopping center. Contestants may then take them to any nearby Skyline Plaza store for validation, the association said.

Other prizes listed by the merchants' association include: Ten wrist watches (five men's and five women's); a $150 barbecue set; and several other surprise gifts.

Two drawings will be held on November 8: one at 8:15 p.m., for secondary prizes; another at 9:15 p.m. at which time the Falcon winner will be selected.

Third Business Night Planned in Westlake

New night opening hours for many of Westlake Shopping Center's 91 stores were announced today.

Effective today, most of the stores will begin remaining open until 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays of each week, according to Bert Feltinton, president of the merchants association.

Until now, Westlake's night shopping hours have been limited to Wednesdays and Fridays until 9 p.m.

Reason for the additional night opening and the extra half hour of shopping time on the three nights is to accommodate customer demand, Feltinton said.

Among leading stores that have announced the additional night opening and extended shopping hours are:

J. C. Penney company, Leed's Shoes, Jayvee Stores, Woolworth's, Karl's Shoes, W. T. Grant company, Mr. H. Luggage, Bloom's Fine Shoes, Westlake TV & Hi-Fi, Cable Car Casuals, Westlake Music Center, Kay Jewelers, Autotorium Stores, and Adeline Bake Shop.

Other stores participating in the new program will be announced later, according to Feltinton.

Stores already observing night openings include: Westlake Food center, Walgreen's Drugs, Crown Drug, St. Clair's Liquors and Westlake Delicatessen.

Be On Watch for Phony Charities

Businesses, as a rule, budget their annual contributions to known worthy charities. However, questionable soliciations or promotions, which make a business of contracting with institutions to raise funds in return for the use of the charity's name, take thousands of charity dollars out of your city every year.

Many a worthy local civic club or auxiliary has been railroaded into lending or selling their good name for a small "guaranteed minimum" to outside promotional organizations who promise fantastic returns.

How do these promoters operate? An "Advance Man with a Package Deal" arrives in town. He has obtained the adso-called selected club or organization because some other promoter has passed on the date or because all other organizations have turned the promoter down.

An executive meeting of the club or auxiliary is called and the club's officers are convinced that sponsoring a show or circus for a charitable cause is an easy way to raise money. They sign a contract which calls for a 50-50 split.

What is the next step? A "boiler room" crew and manager move into town. A "boiler room" is a room with a battery of unlisted phones fromwhicha listed in the yellow pages. Tickets and programs are sold on the sympathy appeal by the telephone crew who give the impression that they are local people by using first names and inferring that they are members of local firms.

The reputation and good will of the local organization sponsoring the cause is of little concern to the professional promoter. Many times the sponsoring club suffers the community's ill will because of the rash promises made and the high pressure methods used. It has sometimes been intimated, when making appeals in the name of veterans' organizations, that the government is not taking the proper care of our sick and wounded servicemen. The anti-Communist line is also popular.

What happens to the 50-50 split? The "underprivileged kids," the "handicapped and orphans," the "blind" are usually left with one charity dollar out of the 10 dollars collected. There are many opportunities for the diversion of funds between the telephone salesmen who get around 25 per cent, the collectors or runners whose take runs 10 per cent, the office and telephone expense, 10 per cent and advance printing and advertising charges another 10 per cent.

A Prize Is Waiting

CLAUDIAS SMITH, Miss Daly City, and Ray Forcina, president of the Skyline Plaza Shopping center Merchants' association, are involved in auto talk as they discuss the progress of the center's fall festival. Highlight of the festival will be the award of this Ford Falcon at a drawing November 8, the last day of the festival. Other prizes, valued at some $1500, also will be given away. (Post-Times photo)
